PAGES AND THEIR PURPOSE

- Home Page – The purpose of the home page is to provide a pleasing introduction to the website, welcome users to the website, and give them a brief overview of what they will learn about me as they go through the different pages.

- Professional Page – The purpose of the professional page is to display to users my skills and qualifications in the form of a resumé, as well as providing a clear visual myself. Also, it includes a quick way to contact me via email by clicking on the image.

- Personal Page – The purpose of the personal page is to give the users an idea of my likes, dislikes, and hobbies, as well as providing a link to the personality and development page as a 'surprise' at the bottom.

- Personality & Development Page – The purpose of the personality and development page is to give users insight on my personal development and what my personality might be like separately from what is shown on the resumé.

- References Page – The purpose of the references page is to credit those who I drew inspiration from to create my webpage and those I used to assist me with regards to using unique html tags and styles.

- Storyboard Page – The purpose of the storyboard page is to display the wireframe for the website, the list of pages and their intended purpose, showcase the theme of the site, and state the list of features used to create the website.

THEME

The theme of the webpage is minimalist, welcoming, and relatable. The target audience is the public, however the purpose of the website is to help users to develop an understanding of what my personality is like through the website, so I thought the chosen colors were well suited for that purpose. They balance well together and provide a clean and aesthetic look and feel. Below is the color palette for the website:
